I demande and more

The Chesaning Board of Education reflects the interest the people of Chesaning take in their school by electing members who have sound judgment, strong character and a devotion to the school so that Chesaning is considered as having a good school tradition.

We, the pupils of the Chesaning School, extend our appreciation to the School Board for the time and attention it has given to make this school a good school and for making these fine educational opportunities available

The members of the school board this year are: Pres., Mr. M. E. Barkman; Secretary, Mrs. Roscoe Rice; Treasurer, Mr. Joseph Danek; Trustees, Dr. D. S. Stewart and Mrs. Carl Grubaugh. Mrs. Grubaugh and Mr. Danek replaced Mrs. Nina Front Row--Perrot (Second), McNier (Seventh), Gay (Kindergarten), Nason (Fifth), Benrens (Home Economics), Brainerd (Jr. High). Not Present--Craig (Eight and English Mine), Larkin (First).

Water cannot raise higher than its source nor can the standards and morale of the school rise higher than those advocated and demonstrated by the members of the faculty. We are fortunate in these trying years of teacher shortages and lowering qualifications for teachers, to have maintained a staff with high educational and personal standards. Seven new members were present at the opening of school last fall: Miss Shirley Gay, Mrs. Lois Behrens, Miss Annie Brainerd, Miss Francis Rice (Mrs. Larkin), Mr. Robert Itnyre Mrs. Cecil Ringler, Mrs. Taylor McNier.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The purpose of the Student Council under the leadership of Mr. Ringler, is to bring a better understanding and cooperation between faculty and students on outside class activities, to develop the spirit, ideals, and practices of good citizenship of the school and to make the pupils feel they have a voice in the rules and discipline.

The Council has sponsored two dances after games, one to raise money for the Red Cross and one for the March of Dimes.

They have organized six committees. They are: the Assembly Program, which has arranged many interesting programs; the Study Hall and Corridor Committee, which has monitors who take care of the halls during noon and after school; the War Service, which takes care of the defense stamps; the Athletic Planning, which does the advertising and ticket selling for the games; the School Party, which assumes responsibility of the records, lights and the like for the parties; and the School Problems which take care of any problems that may arise.

The officers of the Council this year were:
President, James Railling; Vice-President,
Arlington Salzwell; Secretary, Betty Tobias; Treasurer, Donna McCaffrey.

JÜNIUR PLAY

The annual Junior Play, "Man or Mouse?" was given November 29, under the direction of Mr. Ellis, who was good enough to give up his noons for several weeks so we could practice.

Glenna Jean Ford as Ada Parkhurst and JoAnn Schafer as Joan Parkhurst, played the leading girls' parts while Pat Callihan as Wilbur Parkhurst and Louis Klump as Victor Blaine had the leading boys' parts. Other members and the parts they played were: Francis Luft as Dan Parkhurst; Jack Fickies as Rupert Blaine; Arlington Salzwell as Myra Hugo; Phil Banghart as Lancelot Evans; Bernadine Harris as Stella Bugg; Doris Holzhausen as Madam Wills; Audrey Schulz as Mrs. Miles; Cecilia Ringler as Mrs. Olsen and Mary Richardson as Mrs. Dexter.

The play was presented before the largest crowd that had ever assembled in the school's history.

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves, open to all high school girls, has been an active society in the Chesaning High School for a number of years. It is reorganized the latter part of September and holds its meetings every two weeks throughout the school year.

There are at present sixteen members with the following officers: Pres., H. AcCaffrey; Vice Pres., D. Diffen;

Sec., P. Richards; Treas., R. Blakeslee.

The girls gave an exceptionally lovely Christmas dinner party and a most enjoyable St. Patricks Day dinner party, together with other interesting meetings.

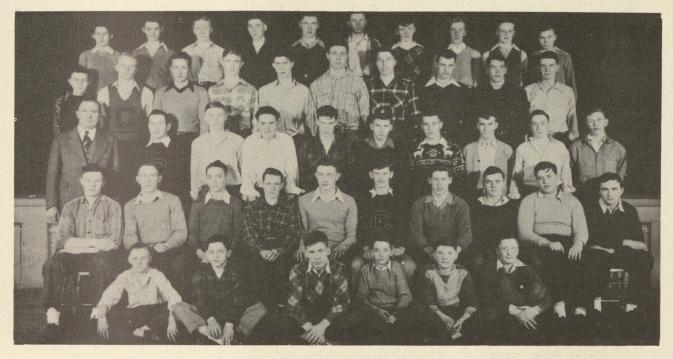

Early in the year two very successful bake sales were undertaken to raise funds for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet, an event which has become traditional

Ordway McFarlan Koviack CHEER LEADERS

The cheer leaders have a big part to play in the success of an athletic season. Our three cheer leaders, this year, played their part well.

The cheer leaders, through the Student Council, took over the Pep Assemblies, which were held frequently before home games, and promoted the cheering on the part of the student body at all of the athletic contests.

Special stress was laid on sportsmanship and conduct on the part of the student body of Chesaning and their part in playing host to visiting schools.

A great deal of interest has been shown in a Junior Cheer Leading Organization, similar to that of a junior athletic team. This group has been working diligently. Stepping into the place vacated by our Senior cheer leaders, Jacqueline Ordway and Rose Koviack, the Junior cheer leaders

JUNIOR BAND

This organization exists as an organization in name only since all of the members of the Junior Band are enrolled in the several band classes and meet for training in small groups during the school year. The school program's being so filled, it has not been found possible to find a time when the band could meet during school hours; therefore, the Junior Band has had to be content with sectional rehearsals and wait until the summer vacation time before they may be permitted to meet as a complete band. About twenty-five members are now enrolled in the band classes with the prospect of many more entering the summer classes. The Junior Band will meet regularly during the summer, and those mem-

Our Orchestra was organized last fall under the direction of Mr. Fred Sharp. Since it takes a much longer time to develop an orchestra than a band, all of the members of the orchestra were selected from among the grade school pupils. The Orchestra made its debut at the Junior play this year when it provided music between acts. At the County Teachers' Institute, held in Chesaning on March 9th, the Orchestra made a hit with the teachers with its music

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club, directed by Mr. Sharp has an active enrollment of thirty members. Membership is entirely voluntary and many of the girls have had no previous vocal music experience. The girls have appeared several times before the student body this year. This Glee Club was the "hit" of the music program provided by the entire Music Department for the County Teachers' Institute held in Chesaning on March 9th of this year. The spontaneity and real beauty of their part singing won many warm compliments from the audience. Choir robes are under consideration to add to the attractive appearance of the Club.

The officers of the Club are: President, Cecilia Ringler; Vice President, Rose Koviack; Secretary, Virginia Krause; Treasurer, Margaret Smith.

MAJORETTES

This group of seven Majorettes, led by Arlington Salzwell, Drum Major, featured all of the marching appearances of the Band. They provided many special stunts in addition to their twirling routine. Dressed as clowns one time they added greatly to the circus atmosphere of the band act. Another time as Indian princesses, and another as Scottish dancers, when they led the band dressed in kilts, our Majorettes added just the right touch to the floor show between halves of the game. One of the attractive stunts featured by the Majorettes was their contribution to the airplane formation when the whirling batons added the most realistic touch to the airplane formed by the entire band. Altogether, our Majorettes provided a lot of glamour and color for our Band appearances this year.

FOOTBALL
Thirty-five boys turned out for football on the first day of school. Under the coaching of Mr. Kurrle, assisted by Mr. Itnyre, these boys developed into a hard-fighting but clean-playing team, and enjoyed the most successful season in many years. Of the eight games played, five were won, two were lost and one tied.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The basketball girls started the season by organizing the team and electing Audrey Schulz as captain.

Five competitive games were played during the season. The first three games were lost, the next one won, and the last game was a tie. The high point girl on the team was Dorothy Luha.

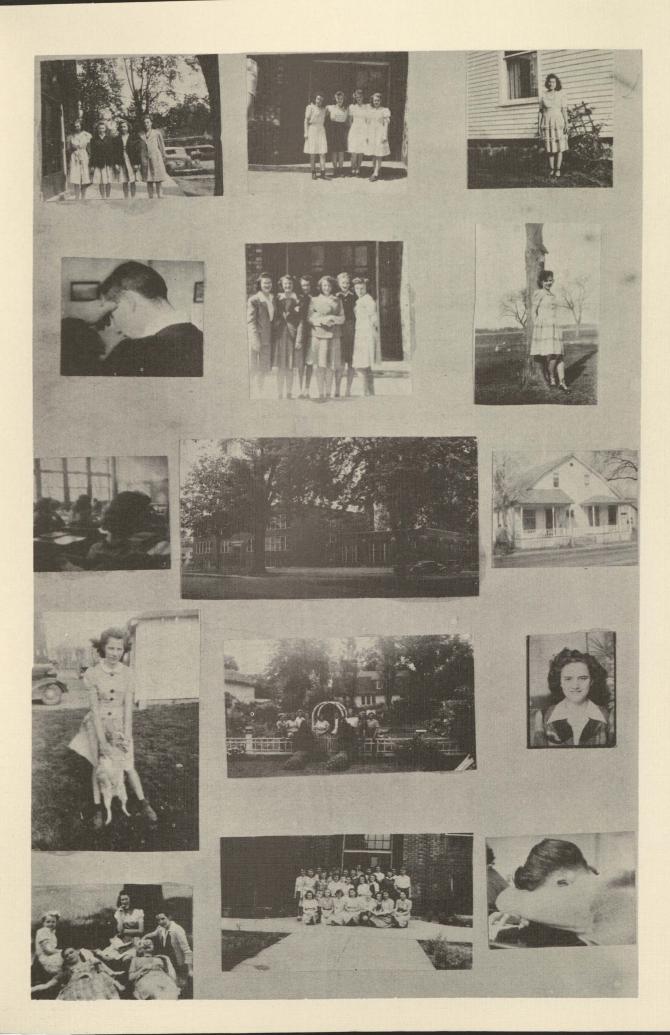

Phyllis Good and Effie Smith were unable to finish the season because of illness but Mary Jane Thorpe and Donna McCaffrey took their places.

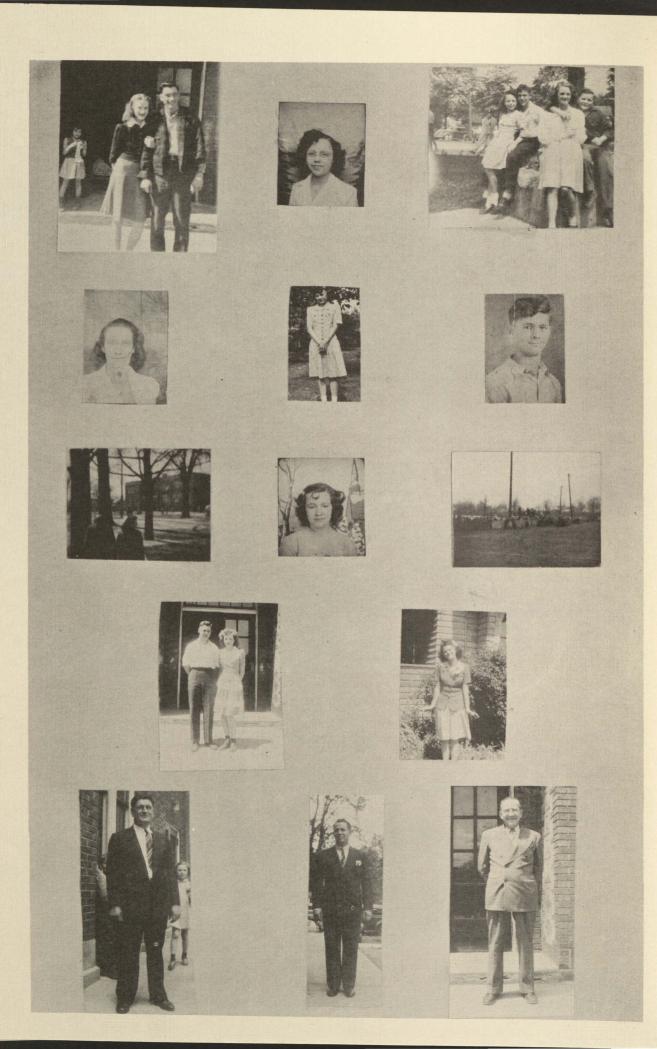

The girls have gained valuable experience and all are looking forward to a very good season next year.
